STEAM

In STEAM (Art), students experimented with texture and use of more than one medium. Kindergarten and first-grade students used glue and Jell-O mix to depict rainbows and ice cream cones. Third grade students completed paintings using pencils, glue, salt and watercolors to create realistic, Native American drawings to complement their learning in their Native American unit. Second-, fourth- and fifth-grade students used pencil drawings, glue, salt and watercolors to create beautiful works of art. Fifth-grade student Dax Harrison is pictured above with his beautiful work of art.

Lesson learned for Mrs. A-R: spray-glued and painted salt with Aqua Net hair spray make a mess! Her apologies to parents and teachers!
