Tempe, 3rd Grade

Love is.. 2ndGr.

Love is...

When you care and show kindness, respect, and I think that my family shows love by taking care of me. I think that the school shows love by helping us when we are hurt and when we are confused. I think that everyone can show love. Love Jace.

Jace Showers

Love is...

Kindness that someone shows to you. Love is also happiness that someone or something brings to you. One summer my cousins left and I was sad. I love my chickens so I went to them and watched them and instantly I felt better. Another summer my grandma showed that she loved me by taking care of me for a whole week. I love my pets and my whole family. If you can't find someone you love I bet deep inside you can find someone you love. Love is important to me so I hope it is to you. Have a happy Valentine's day and go Scotties.

Tempe (p.s. Love is important even if you can't find it you still have it.)

Love is...

In my mom and my dad. They show love by helping my little sister because she is sick. They will watch her until she is all better. I also see love in my friends because when something is hard for me they help me get through. I also see love in Mrs. AR because she always plans her art and science projects for us. And that's where I have seen love before. Raya

Love is...

Something or someone that you like a lot. Love is also having kindness for others so I have love for my cats, or kittens, dog, Penny, and my chickens. My family has love for me especially my big sister and my mom and dad. Valentine's day is the best time of the year to give love for others that you love.

Being mad at someone will never overcome how much you love them. If you love them they will love you but if you hate them they will hate you. Hating someone will only make them even madder at you. Love is better than hating. Like give something they will give you something. Kind of like the giving tree. With love the world is better than hating. Mr. Benson!

Love is...

A feeling that is warm inside. If you love someone or something it means you care about someone or something. Like I love Bodie with all my heart it means I love him so much. Your heart holds things you love for example I love my friends, family, stuff, games, food, and way more. People like different things that is fine everyone likes, acts and looks different. Jesus creates you different from everyone. But some people are the same that is normal. Twins might look the same but that doesn't mean they act or like the same thing. Jesus created the way you are. And that is what love is. Evan

Love is...

Kindness love is someone or something you really like a lot. It's like a tree a tree that shows things and people you really like a lot from branch to branch to branch. It goes on forever as more things you love. A thing I heard once was "hate can't give away hate only love can do that." Everyone has love and that love inside of them goes on forever. Love can not be stopped because love is the greatest thing and greatest power. Florence

Love is...

Dragons dragons are sweet like princess and little tempe she follows the dachshunds. Dragons can change lives to better ones. And so that's why I pick tempe, and dragons. Carter

Love is...

A feeling that a person feels when someone does something nice. Friendly, fairness and standing up for the skin of people like Mother Luther King did to make our world a better place so every state is equal and fair to every world is fair. That what love is. Ben

Love is...

When my parents help me to do my best. Also love is when they stay up in the middle of the night to help me with my diabetes. Love is when my brother Gage plays with me. Love is how my Grandma would do anything for me. Love is family. Nash C.

Love is...

my dog for me its my dog and puppy they go on big hunts with me and my friend sleep with me. And just is always near me. Wear ever I go they go they also go on walkes and goes swimming with me and floting down the river with or kayak with me he is a good dog also with Scarlet it is the same. Cade

Love is...

A tree. Eeach leaf is something you love. As the years go by the roots grow to they represent love in you self. As your tree grows you will always kown love is everywhere and in every living thing. So keep in mind your tree is always growing and so are you ♥ Kensi

Love is...

When you like someone or something. Love is also a feeling and it is when you care for someone or something. Some people may have love for animals or people. And many people may love all different thing and some thigs the same. Emerson

Love is...

my feelngn about truck and cars. I love is how fast they go. I like their coler. I like gmc. Sam

Love is...

Important be cause we need aur frends. Blaze Issacs

Love is...

a thing between 2 or more people how like echother and opresheat echother. Beau Pederson

Love is...

A amazing thing to have. Love will get you thraw the day. When you have love it's so strong trust me you will love it. Love is the only way to help one another. Love isn't like want to be married well it is and it's also friendship. Like is another way of showing love. Love is all we need. Evalea Bessire

Love is...

A awesome thing to have. Like spending time with your family. And having fun with your family. My family shows love to me by caring. This is what I think love is. Kamden Ketel

Love is...

Not how they look, but it's how they act. If their nice and kind, they are a good person. Love is they will always stand by you, and that's what friends do to. If the person is not nice and kind you wouldn't want to be with them. If you loved someone you would be nice. If you are a boy you would let girls go first that's being a gentleman. That is what I think love is. Sincerely Jude

Love is...

Like kindness. Being loved feels pretty good. You can get love all the time. For example if I do something wronge people still love you. If you did something loving to someone else Its kind of like generes or kindness or eavan if you ask someone if they need help with something. For example I can ask someone if they need help with anything like helping someone with there homework. You can help anyone if you just feel kind. This is why I think love is inportint. Willow King

Love is...

Kindness and happens love is not pancing love is karing. Love is spending time with famlily love is giving things to ethers. Love is helping people when thay get hurt that is love. It does not mater what time it is I don't car if it is the midal of the night I do not care. Just be kind is finishing things even if you don't want to. You shuld be kind to every wone. Luke Jones

Love is...

Something very important for life if valentines Day was not a holiday the people wouldn't have love every where. For example I love family, pets, and plants it is like being thankful. If others don't have a lot of love in their heart you just need to give however it is some time to find all of their love. To spread and show the world how they care to one and other. Even if I get mad at my sister I love her in every which way at the end of the Day. Love is super important for you and me. Love, Nava Cassanego

Love is...

Happiness and joy. And where it comes from is your heart and your feelings. You can spread love by saying and doing nice things for ever. It should make you feel better to by spreading love. Every when can show love in some way. And it should great you with lots of joy. Love is good to feel. Hailey Santman

Love is...

Strong It keeps the freeman family together forever. Love is more powerful to me because I love this school and it will always be apart of my life and I feel like Im at home here. Together we will make history here forever I will never forget this school my heart is fill with joy here at freeman. With the love here ever body would want to come to freeman. Clayson Anderberg

Love is...

Strong, magnificent and amazing. I know my family I will love forever. But I know I will also love my friend's forever to. Love is all around freeman in classrooms on the bus. We all love each other. That's why I think Love is strong, magnificent, and amazing at Freeman. Daniel Dexter

Love is...

When you are happy and liked. Anthony R.

Love is...

A strong bond between 2 or more people. Bodie. M.

Love is...

Caring for someone, Not just saying "I love you" but actually showing that you care and love them. If you love someone you have passion for them. ♥♥♥ Aubrielle Hueser

Love is...

Love is special love is nice and love is important to others. Everyone has their own love like who they love and what they love like I love my cat. Besides that without love nothing would be possible. Love is the most important thing in the world. Miranda Schott

Love is...

A connection example me and my mom. In love my mom and dad that is love Love can be any thing example my mom and dad love each other. Love is powerful and beautiful. Love is not a feeling. I love Valentines! Piper Martin

Love is...

My mom gets me a present that I really wanted. Griffen

Love is...

When you do something without getting asked. Love is when you give someone a hug and when you ask someone to play a game with you. Justin

Love is...

When your mom or dad gives you a hug or a kiss. Being nice and helping others when needed. Helping people get up and being a good friend to others. Caring for others and being nice even when its hard to be nice. Be loving and not grumpy. Giving gifts for people to make them feel better. Being a good friend to others. Caring for people that you don't know. Jaxton

Love is...

When I go to Florda with my family. I went to my cousin's house in Louisiana and we got a sleepover. The next day we went to Florda it took 5 hours. We stoped at Buckes, and we all got cotton candy. At last we got there, me and my cousins looked around and saw a pool. We asked to go in. My Uncle tested the water, but it was as cold as ice. We got in the hot tub. Then my other cousins got there by plane. The next day we swam in the pool, and hot tub. We also went Kay aking the next day. That day was my grandma's birthday, so all the cousins painted there hands with white. We put it on an apron, and wrapped it up. So did I. She opened it, and loved it. I got to play games with the grownw-up's. I played arcade games while the adults played B ball. But we had to go home. That is what I think love is. Kate

Love is..

5th Gr.

Love is...

When someone shows a good emotion or feeling toward somebody else and they are affectionate about it. As well as if you sacrifice something you want to do to do what someone else likes and enjoys it. I also think love is when you like someone for their personality and maybe if you have something in common that you both like. Not because of their looks, if maybe they're good at sports, or if they are smart. Love is when you appreciate one another and when you want to spend time together. Love might mean something else to you, but that's what it means to me. Ahava Kann

Love is...

a sort of special feeling you get a couple times in your life. If you and someone like each other then you'll fall in love and you don't want to stop loving them. Then you want to protect your love and support them financially and physically and you do this cause you love them. That is what love is to me but there are tons more meanings. I mean like when your parents say I love you that means that most of the time they will support you or help you get over something and that they will protect you from as much harm as they can. Jace Fricke

Love is...

Hello. My name is January and let me tell you what I think and believe love is. Some people think love is where you're married, or you have a sibling that you love, and yes those are all types of love, but those are not the only types, here let me show you. Love is not only a feeling it's also an action, like most people would call this weird, but you love your friends, not like you want to marry them or something like that. But you would do anything for them. If you needed help they would help you. Family movie night, and need popcorn? BAM! Your best friend is there and outside your window there is a semi truck filled with popcorn, it also has the cheesy name "Poppy's Popcorn!!" because that's your friend. So you might think love is something else but this is what I, January McKee believes. January McKee

Love is...

When you hug your friends and family, and play with your dogs. You can show love by helping people. Or giving presents to loved ones. You can also show love to homeless people by giving them food, or donating to homeless shelters. You can always show love by just simply being kind to others. Lucia Anderson

Love is...

the feeling of happiness around close people. Some close people that you may feel love around can consist of family and friends. When you feel love around these people, you don't want it to stop. If you don't miss someone that you love if they're away, then you don't truly love them. You always want to be with your loved ones. Showing love means showing kindness. You will always care for a loved one. You will make sure a loved one is feeling well, and if not, you will want to comfort them. You will do anything for a loved one. You will help a loved one achieve a goal. You will help a loved one solve a problem. You also have the most fun with the people you love, that is what love means.

Wyatt Boring

Love is...

Love to me is hanging out with my family for example when we go on long road trips together or when we play board games. I know this is supposed to be what love is to you but if someone loves you they will protect you and make you feel safe and that's how my family makes me feel. I also love when I haven't seen my cousins in a long time and finally we meet again then, I hug them and we have so much exciting times. My animals bring me so much joy and happiness they have the greatest personalities and give the greatest cuddles, I love saving wild animals and we have saved 4 cats that have had 27 babies and I love that we kept them safe. Reagan Coyner

Love is...

When you really like someone or something, but love is a stronger

Love is...

Family and friends because when I am with my good friend Mirek Janout we have fun and it's a feeling of happiness. It's also family like my brother sister and parents. Most importantly God is love and he created love and that love will never go away. Love is helping around the house, caring for pets, washing the car for my parents. Love is visiting grandparents, in assisted living. Love can be shown in many different ways. Evan R.

Love is...

When you care for someone and are willing to do anything for them. Love is also caring for one and other. And when you spend your thoughtful time with that person. You also might have to sacrifice your own wants for them. I also think that love is when you like somebody for their personality's or you have something in common with them that you like. And it also doesn't matter what they look like, you would still love them. As well as when someone is showing affection towards another person. But most importantly, God is love and he was the One who created love and that love is everlasting love. That's what love means to me but, it might mean something different to you. Arlee Day

Love is...

To me love is a sign of affection to one another to show that he or she appreciates them. But, love can mean different things to different people. To some, love may mean their family or the special people in their life. Others think of it as caring for one another when they are hurt, or just feeling warmth inside when someone does something for you. One thing is for sure though, love feels great! That is what love means to me and how other people think love means. Evelyn Kann word to use than the word "like." Here is an example "I love the summer when it is hot, sunny, and not too hot, maybe around 80°-90° is just perfect for me personally! That is one example of the word love, it's kind of like the word "like", but again I said it has a bit of a strong meaning. Also when two people like each other they sometimes say, "I love you." Here is another way you could put it, an intense feeling of deep affection! I believe you could also say/put it as a great interest and pleasure of something. What is something that you love? It could be anything that exists! That is also kind of what Valentine's Day is about, loving one another, like family and friends. This is what love is to me! Thank you for your time! Kesslyn Lally

Love is...

To me love is to be connected to someone, be with them no matter what, be deeply committed to someone and do a lot for that person. What love does to people is make them happy to be around this person and love is probably the most powerful emotion not only in a human an animal, animals get so attached to a person or another animal so love is more than just for humans anything can love and be loved. This is what love is to me. Carson C.

Love is...

To me love is caring for others and taking care of others and animals. This means to take care of people you love when they are sick or injured. Love is also having special feelings for something or someone. I also believe that love is also loving family no matter what silly things they do in their lives. This is what love means to me. Avery Schmidt
